Angels on the Bluff 2015

Those of you that were at the April Meeting may recall we talked about doing this event again as a group. Traditionally this happens on the same Saturday as our Nov. Meeting but this time it is the week before. I would love for a group of us to go over in the morning and spend the day if not the night and do the 5pm tour of Angels on the Bluff. Last year tickets were $25 each. I can purchase them as a group up to 20 people. If you plan to go and want me to get your ticket please comment below or inbox me. Thanks!

Important Message for Members

The Executive Committee reminds members that no one should state matters of personal opinion in any public forum in a manner that implies or causes others to construe that the member’s statement is the opinion of the society. If any issue arises on which the society needs to take a position publicly, that position will be decided upon by the Executive Committee and made public by an officer or a designee of the Board. This month’s installment comes from the WPA books. Two sections having to do with Amite Countians in the military and involved in World War I. Since the WPA books were published before World War II occurred, World War I is simply called the World War.

These sections may be found on pages 340-343 of Volume I, Section IX. Wars. Footnotes denoting original sources for the information have not been retained in this transcription.

Overseas Casualties

Only two Amite World War soldiers were killed in action overseas. The whereabouts of the family of one of them is unknown. The following article was published in the Southern Herald, Liberty newspaper, May 27, 1921, as copied from a Summit, Mississippi newspaper. “War Heroes body brought home to rest in family burying ground.

“The flag-draped box containing the steel case where-in lay the body of Private Carl L. Wells, of Company K, 153d Infantry, Machine Gun Company 23rd, and who fell in battle at Château Thierry in July, 1918, at the age of 22 years, reach Summit this Wednesday noon, being accompanied home by Private Jerry R. Watkins, of Fort McPherson, who formally delivered the body to his aged father, George W. Wells, of Smithdale, who, with his family were here to take the body home for internment in the East Fork Cemetery, near their home. All of the stores were closed on the arrival of the train, and citizens of the town were at the station. The faculty and pupils of the high school marched in a body carrying the colors.

"Rev. R. L. Bunyard, pastor of the Baptist church, was chairman of the meeting. The body was escorted before the waiting assemblage by the Legionnaires. W. B. Mixon spoke for thirty minutes, honoring the returned soldiers, whom he has known since infancy. ‘My Country’ was sung by the choir and the body was placed up on the hearse, the casket being completely covered by many beautiful floral designs in the national colors. Invocation and benediction was by the Rev. A. S. Oliver.”

From the Southern Herald, October 25, 1918, the following article concerning another Amite County soldier is copied: “Mr. Lindsey Anderson, who lives in O’Neal’s precinct, received a message this week that his son, Bryan, who volunteered in the Forestry service, was wounded in battle, September 18, and died on the 20th. His captain wrote to that effect, and we suppose the young man had been transferred. This is the second Amite County boy to give his life in the war, and our hearts go out to their parents.”

He spent one year in the camp there, and then sailed to Vera Cruz, Mexico, with his regiment, where they were engaged in outpost duty most of the time, until the withdrawal of troops in November, 1914. He states that he "saw by that time that if he was to succeed in the army he would have to do much studying." If members have information they would like to contribute, please feel free to offer it by contacting me at one of the addresses shown in the box on page 2. I will not be able to accept/use just anything submitted. If information is sent by e-mail, it must be in the body of the message, in a MS Word document, or in a PDF document. If images of documents are sent they must be in JPG format so that I can attempt to convert them to text via an optical character reading application. If information is sent by postal mail, it should be in typewritten text, not handwritten, and should be a copy that doesn't have to be returned. Since about half our members receive the newsletter by print copy and the copying process will not adequately display photos, I cannot illustrate text write-ups. If photos are sent, do so only by electronic files in JPG format but don't assume the photos will appear in the newsletter. Photos sent in this manner may sometimes be put on the society's Facebook group page if they are likely to have wide appeal. I realize these criteria may prevent the sharing of some information; however, I must place some limits on the amount of time I devote to the newsletter each month since I have other projects including another monthly newsletter that I work on periodically.

no individual members should express an opinion on behalf of the society unless approved to do so by prior Executive Board action.

A society member may have and express a personal opinion on any topic; however, the society’s charitable organization status under the tax laws, state and federal, must be protected by not involving the society in any political matters. If the society were to lose its charitable organization status, it would not be able to continue to function since the cost of the annual accounting and reporting requirements could consume most if not all of the annual revenue the society currently receives.

With the current polarization of public opinion over various Confederate symbols and monuments and over the Mississippi state flag, new organizations are popping up with the supposed purpose of furthering the goals of one side or the other. Some have begun to solicit funding from the public. The Executive Board cautions all members that such organizations are not charities, they are political action organizations; therefore, contributions by individuals are not tax deductible. Also, it’s very possible that some of them are confidence games wherein the donations will go primarily to line someone’s pockets. Be careful with your money.
