May 14, 2010, 10:00 am — Regular monthly meeting in the conference room of the library in Liberty, MS.

President Greg Barron called the meeting to order at 10:07 am in the meeting room of the Liberty library. There were 16 attendees. J. Walt Gaston gave the invocation.

Minutes from the previous meeting were presented for approval. Dawn Taylor made a motion to approve; Oma Gordon seconded. The minutes were approved as written by vote of the members present.

President Report: Pres. Barron reported on the following:

- The field trip to the Vaughn House in Magnolia planned tentatively for September will be postponed due to conflicts in finalizing the schedule. Due to other events occurring in the fall and winter, the field trip may have to wait until next spring.
- The November society meeting will be an important one for finalizing plans for the open house in December. This year the open house will be held in the old Liberty Hardware Store which has been converted to offices for the Kelly Law firm. As in previous years, the open house will be on the first Saturday in December. Parking for this year's event is available on the street, behind the offices in the parking lot, and behind the court house if all other spaces are full.
- Jeannie Livingston has agreed to serve on the Cemeteries Committee for the society

- Mr. James Allen Causey has learned that the old Westbrook Gin will be nominated by the MS Dept. of Archives and History to the National Register of Historic Places.

Vice President Report: VP Dawn Taylor suggested that the society go ahead and set the time for the open house. President Barron suggested noon until 3:00 pm. No one expressed disagreement with that schedule but it could be subject to change pending comments from the law firm or others not in attendance.

Secretary Report: Secy. Wayne Anderson had no report.

Treasurer Report: Treasurer Gay Blalock was not present.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

WPA Books: There have been no new sales recently; however, plenty of books are available.

LRSB: Mrs. Vera Prestridge reported that there were no visitors to the LRSB in July but that someone had inquired about visiting in association with a class reunion. The class year was not specified but it is likely a class that graduated when the old school was still present on the site.

Old Business: None.

New Business:

- Frances Phares is ready to publish another volume of the Amite County genealogy information. She has a lot of information on Sylvester Dunn family. The next volume will publish in November and be ready for distribution by the next open house.
- Mrs. Phares repeated her request that members to write down childhood memories of growing up in Amite County and submit them to her for inclusion in future issues of the newsletter. Anyone wishing to participate may send their write-ups to Secretary Anderson (see newsletter for contact info) and he will pass it on to Mrs. Phares.

Other Business: None

Announcements/Special discussions:

- President Barron announced details of the East Fork Baptist Church Bicentennial observance which will have events on September 15, 17, 18 and 19. On Sept. 15, ceremonies will be held at Chandler's Hill on the site of the original East Fork Church at the time of its founding. On Sept. 17 a media presentation on the church's history will be given. On Sept. 18, there will be a day-long open house at the church with music in the outdoor pavilion from 10 until 4, a church history display inside the church, fried catfish lunches for sale and, at 4:30 pm, a grave-side dramatic impression of one of the church members describing the early years of the church. On Sept. 19, the church will host an old-fashioned day-long service with dinner on the ground and addresses by past ministers and special guest Will Davis Campbell. For those with internet access, details of the church's history and bicentennial plans may be found by visiting <http://www.eastforkbaptistchurch.com> (all details are not on a single page, so view all the site).
- Dan Morgan gave a report on his participation in the PBS "Antiques Road Show" in Biloxi recently. Although Dan was not chosen to appear on the televised portion of the show, he said the experience was both entertaining and educational.
- Frances Phares read some selected bits of information from the collected memoir notes of Hiram McGehee, particularly the recollections of his father George McGehee. Hiram McGehee was a chemist and a lobbyist for the creosote industry in the early 20th century. His sister was a Catholic nun.
